BENEFITS of Being an ACBS & Heartland Classics MEMBER

Membership automatically gives you invaluable relationships and experiences.

Ask a member what the membership benefits are – they will first talk about the relationships.

You will be welcomed at any Antique and Classic Boat Society event wherever you go. ACBS members automatically have friends who want to share boat stories – and dreams.

The DIRECTORY -printed or online- lists all members and boats. Cross reference listings include geographic location and chapters for members and make, model, year, power, and boat name for boats and engines.

The www.acbs.org website is so full of information for all, but the “Members Only” section has even more resources. The first time you go there, use your own email address as your sign-in. A link will be sent to your email where you create your own password.

An ever-expanding VIDEO LIBRARY covering preservation and restoration techniques for boats and engines. Videos are available online to ‘Members Only’ through the ACBS website www.acbs.org.

Immediate access to sources for supplies and service, some with discounts, and resources for knowledge needed to help resolve vintage boat restoration, maintenance and operational problems.

Subscription to the ACBS quarterly magazine, RUDDER, which carries news of current events in the vintage boating community as well as historic, restoration and other articles of interest to antique boaters. And the Heartland Classics quarterly magazine Mahogany & Chrome which is always full of beautiful photos, event reports, “how-to” articles, and stories about the people and boats in our chapter.

Direct access to the "TRADING DOCK" section of Rudder where ACBS members can list and find antique boats and marine engines for sale. Members may also post a public listing through the ACBS website.

Loving an old boat or a classically styled boat makes you also want to share experiences, even for the benefit of the community. Sharing those experiences leads you to an ever-broadening network of friends.

Want to increase the “property value” of your boat? “Grandma’s post war little runabout” is invaluable to your family. Learning more about its past, the original manufacturers’ specs, the best maintenance techniques, all add to keeping its value. Plus having a network to register the boat and events to “show it off” add to its claim to fame.

Of course then there is the list of traditional benefits valued by members:

- Access to Membership Directory with multiple searches for people, boats, engines, and more
